WEDDING BELLS RANG IN SWEETEST CHIMES.

Owsley-Shanks Nuptials Brilliant
Social Event In Historical Old Southern City.

The wedding of Mr. Thomas Handley Shanks, of Stanford, and Miss Mattie Hays Owsley, of Columbus, Georgia, was one of the most brilliant nuptial ceremonies ever seen in that historic old Southern city, according to accounts of the wedding published in the Georgia papers. The wedding is of much interest in Kentucky, for both the bride and groom are representatives of prominent old Kentucky families, the bride's father, E. P. Owsley, being a son of Dr. J. B. Owsley, the retired capitalist of this city. The younger Owsley went to Columbus a number of years ago, where he now holds a foremost position as one of the leading financiers of the South. The bride, his only daughter, had frequently visited her old Kentucky home, and is very popular in society both here and in her Southern home. A dispatch from Columbus to the Atlanta Constitution said this of the wedding:

Columbus, Ga.—The wedding of Miss Mattie Hays Owsley and Mr. Thomas Handley Shanks, which took place on Thursday evening at the beautiful suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Owsley, was a brilliant social event.

The entire lower floor was thrown open to the guests and every where were quantities of cut flowers.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the ceremony took place, Dr. I. S. McElroy officiating.

First came the little girl and girls, Misses Elizabeth Bradley, Margaret Bullock, Marian Lummus, Margaret Gordon, Susie Blackmar and Elizabeth Blackmar. They were dressed in white and carried a feathery garland of white pinks, forming an aisle for the bride. Then came the bride's maids and matrons, Miss Lucy Hill, Miss Lottie McElroy, Miss Jones, Miss Thomas, Mrs. Alfred Blackmar, Mrs. Arthur Chenoweth, also gowned in white and carrying shower bouquets of double white petunias and ferns. The matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Putnam, of Kentucky, wore an exquisite robe of white and her bouquet was of pink carnations. The bride entered with her father, wearing an elegant gown of champagne satin and duchess lace, her flowers being valley lilies and roses.

In the dining-room, sweet peas and calla lilies were used, tall silver vases and baskets filled with them were placed about the center table. Stately Paul Neyron roses were banded on the hall mantel and spring roses of every kind were used in the living rooms.

Serving punch were Misses Aylmar Hagen, Isabelle Battle and Mildred Salisbury.

The bride's mother wore an exquisite white silk gown with silver trimmings, and Mrs. Lou Shanks, the groom's mother, wore black satin with jet trimmings.

Mr. and Mrs. Shanks left at 10 o'clock for an extended eastern tour and will spend the summer in Kentucky. After October 1, they will be with Mr. and Mrs. Owsley, at Wynnton.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Miss Nina Jones, of Waynesboro; Miss Thomas, of Athens; Mrs. Arthur Chenoweth, of Birmingham; Mrs. Richard S. Putnam, Mrs. Lou Shanks, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Shanks, Mr. W. H. Shanks, Mrs. Thomas A. Rice, Miss Pauline Hocker, Mrs. Kirby Bourne, Dr. R. A. Jones, all of whom were from Kentucky.

Pretty Romance

Completed In Wedding of Miss
Gillock And Mr. Jones.

A pretty romance had its happy culmination at Hustonville, this county, Wednesday, when Miss Edna Gillock was united in marriage to Chas. Jones, the Rev. J. J. Montgomery, officiating. After a wedding trip to the South they will make their home at Hustonville.

The bride is the daughter of George Gillock, and one of the most popular young ladies in the West End of the county. Their courtship might be called a telephone romance, for Miss Gillock was connected with the telephone company's exchange at Hustonville, and Mr. Jones had been in the employ of the company at Crab Orchard and Stanford. When the subscribers to the Hustonville exchange learned that wedding bells were soon to ring, they rebelled so at the thought of giving up their charming and most accommodating operator that they held a meeting and petitioned the company to transfer Mr. Jones to Hustonville, so that they might still keep the bride. The company proved obliging in the matter, and not only has transferred Mr. Jones to Hustonville, but has given both him and his popular bride handsome increases in salary as wedding presents.

Big Wholesale House.

Greenberry Bright has been appointed traveling representative for Curry, Tunis & Norwood, the big Lexington wholesale grocers, and will go to work for them Monday. He will have territory south of the L. & N. railroad, with headquarters at Stanford. Farris since coming back from Phoenix, Arizona, where he resided for several years. The many friends of Mr. Bright and his popular family will be glad to know that they will still make this their home.

G. Gooch. The lodge starts off with 18 charter members, all among the most prominent and substantial citizens of that community.

To Fence Ball Park.

School Board Decides To Help
Youngsters In The Game.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Stanford Graded School it was decided to build a fence around the athletic field in the rear of the school house. A wooden fence high enough to prevent any one on the outside from witnessing ball games and other athletic contests without paying, will be put up. School authorities all over the country have found that fostering of the athletic spirit among the pupils has proven a splendid way to encourage interest in the entire school work, and this step by the Stanford trustees is right in line with the progressive movement which is taking hold so fast in the schools of Kentucky.

Work will be started at once upon the building of the fence and it will probably be up in time for service at most of the games this season.

Horace W. Bowman, of Lethbridge, Alberta province, Canada, spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cecil on Main street. Mr. Bowman returned a few days ago from Canada and has been with friends and relatives in Lexington. He and Mrs. Bowman spent the winter in California, but have been in Canada since the latter part of February. He has sold a large portion of the land he purchased in Alberta. Mr. Bowman says the climate there is usually more pleasant than in Kentucky. He has purchased a large area of land in Old Mexico and will leave soon for his new possessions in that republic.—Danville Advocate.

UNCLE SAM TO OPEN BIG TRACT IN WEST.

Lincoln County Boy Writes Of Great Prospects Ahead At Parker, Arizona.

Robert C. Saufley, a former Stanford boy, who is in the real estate, mining and insurance business at Parker, Arizona, writes some interesting notes about the western country in which he located. He says:

Thinking that possibly the readers of the old I. J. will be interested in what Uncle Sam is doing in this country, I will give you a little description of what we have in this country and what we hope to have in the near future. In the first place, we have the finest climate in the world for ten months in the year, the other two getting pretty warm, but with all the heat there are never any prostrations, owing to the absence of humidity. Any one who has been in this part of the country could not have helped but notice what an abundance of water means to any section, and we have all the water we can possibly use, for we are situated on the banks of the mighty Colorado river, that has an average flow of 40,000 cubic feet a minute. The Parker townsite is situated on the Colorado River Indian Reservation and was surveyed and platteed last year. It contains about 1,000 acres and is divided into about 3,000 lots. Parker has an ideal location, being situated on a broad, level mesa, with a gentle slope toward the river.

The public sale of lots will commence at 10 A. M. on May 10th, next, and will continue as long as necessary. The government expects to reserve a part of the lots from this sale to be sold at another sale next November, for a great rush is expected, and it is believed that the lots will bring a higher price in the fall, after things are opened up and well under way, than if they were sold all at one time. At the present time there are about 600 "squatters" here, who, according to the ruling of the Land Office, will get to buy the lots that they have "squatted" on at the appraised valuation without bidding, only two lots being allowed to each "squatter."

Parker is at present the terminal of the famous cut off of the Santa Fe railroad, which has completed a five-span bridge across the river here at a cost of $1,000,000, and is now rushing the line to connect with the main line at Bengal, Cal. When this line is finished this will be the principal main line station between Phoenix, Ariz., and San Bernardino, Cal. It is a foregone conclusion that we will have the division point and the shops here, for we have the geographical situation and the only large amount of water for hundreds of miles either way.

Tributary to Parker and in this reservation are about 250,000 acres of the finest land in the world. It is all fertile and irrigable and will grow any crops that grow in either the temperate or semi-tropical zones.

The Mohave Indians—there are about 400 of them on the reservation—farm a small part of this land in a way and get wonderful crops with the least amount of work, for they are the laziest people I ever saw.

The government has investigated and selected a natural dam site for the irrigation of this immense body of land, and as soon as this sale of the townsites is over, we are going after the next link—the opening of this reservation to settlement.

Parker has a great future. We easily have resources capable of supporting a town larger than Lexington, and Fitz-Mack, the celebrated mining engineer, says that we have a much better mineral showing, considering the development, than Denver had at the same period in its history.

We have everything that helps to make the big cities—waterways, railroads, mines and irrigable land. We have a hustling town and it's getting better all the time; and after the opening, we expect a phenomenal growth. Our expectations are justified, for this is without a doubt the best advertised place in the west today. At the present time, the Parker district commands the attention of the mining world, and deservedly so, for there is more ore in sight in the hills that surround this valley than in any known region on the globe.

In conclusion, I want to congratulate you and the people of good old Lincoln on the paper you are giving them. It always was a good paper, and it has improved wonderfully. It is sure worth the price, and then some.
